Hyderabad: UNMUKT Festival, considered as country's first and the biggest lifestyle solutions show for senior citizens, was inaugurated at Hitex on Saturday.

Featuring 60 stalls, some of which are solution providers in the fields of health and wellness, senior housing, home healthcare, finance and legal, technology and lifestyle, the event is open till Sunday evening and entry is free, according to a press release.

On Saturday, Google conducted a series of workshops on online safety for the senior citizens both in English and Telugu and similar workshops will be held on Sunday too.

The event has many unique products and services specially developed for elderly people.
